

Figure S4. Correlation between bilinguals' current source densities across language contexts and the reduction in speaking and hearing Spanish from early childhood to the time of the experiment. The left side depicts brain regions (BA 44 & 9) correlating with the decrease in Spanish use. The right side presents a violin plot of values representing this reduction. The white dot in the violin plot represents the median.