

The Red Sea Aristotle

Ephraim Lytle

Captions for figures referred to in the text

Fig. 1. Fahaka puffer depicted in a wall painting from the tomb of Nebamun, Thebes, 18th dynasty, now in the British Museum, London. Image: © The Trustees of the British Museum

Fig. 2. A masked puffer (Arothron diadematus) in the Red Sea. Image: Derek Keats. CC BY 2.0.

<https://www.flickr.com/photos/dkeats/6329675010/>

Fig. 3. Black-lip pearl oyster (Pinctada margaritifera) in the Red Sea. Image: Charles Stirling / Alamy

Fig. 4. Engraved giant clam shell (Tridacna squamosa), perhaps found at Vulci, now in the British Museum (1852,0112.3), 630-580 BCE. Image: © The Trustees of the British Museum

Fig. 5. Shell of the giant triton (Charonia tritonis). Image: Antan0. CC BY-SA 4.0.

https://commons.wikimedia.org/wiki/File:Triton_conch_\(Charonia_tritonis\).jpg.jpg)

Fig. 6. The black-tailed butterflyfish (Chaetodon austriacus). Image: Bernard E. Picton. CC BY-SA 4.0.

https://commons.wikimedia.org/wiki/File:Bep_chaetodon_austriacus_edit.jpg

Fig. 7. Emperor angelfish (Pomacanthus imperator). Image: Rickard Zerpe. CC BY 2.0.

<https://www.flickr.com/photos/krokodiver/32827796637>

Fig. 8. Leopard flounder (Bothus pantherinus). Image: Paul Kli. CC BY-SA 2.0.

https://commons.wikimedia.org/wiki/File:Bothus_pantherinus_\(26728586675\).jpg.jpg)

Fig. 9. School of yellowtail barracuda (Sphyraena flavicauda) in the Red Sea. Image: Imagebroker / Alamy.

Fig. 10. The bluespotted wrasse (Anampses caeruleopunctatus)

Image: François Libert. CC BY-NC-SA 2.0.

<https://www.flickr.com/photos/zsispeo/36912759544/in/photolist-2abL2w3-27WEKJS-23sB2BJ-23sB2qb-25LucTC-YVLX29-zrXStx-e3pjKQ-23sB2RS-29Bahr5-YeRxoG-KFcm4m>

Fig. 11. Striped mackerel (Rastrelliger kanagurta) in the Red Sea. Image: Alex Mustard / Alamy

Fig. 12. A redcoat squirrelfish (Sargocentron rubrum) in the Mediterranean. Image: WaterFrame / Alamy

Fig. 13. A long-spined sea urchin (Diadema setosum). Image: Michael Wolf. CC BY 2.5.
https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Diadema_\(genus\)#/media/File:Diademseeigel.jpg#/media/File:Diademseeigel.jpg)

Fig. 14. The tasseled scorpionfish (Scorpaenopsis oxycephala).
Image: Alexander Vasin. CC BY-SA 3.0.
https://sco.wikipedia.org/wiki/File:Tassled_scorpionfish_at_Manta_Alley.JPG

Fig. 15. The humphead wrasse (Cheilinus undulatus). Image: MDC Seamarc Maldives.
CC BY-SA 4.0.
https://commons.wikimedia.org/wiki/File:Cheilinus_undulatus_Huludhoo.JPG