

Supplementary Figure S1: Distribution of axonopathy and myopathy detected by electrophysiological examination. The number of nerves with reduced sensory or motor compound action potential is summed up. The distribution of the resulting values is displayed for patients (black bars) and controls (red bar). The cumulative score was zero in all controls. Pathologic findings in nerves were defined as reduced motor unit action potentials and/or compound action potentials.

